

Dear Franklinites,

With virtual classes virtually behind us, it's the season of final assessments. Even with some pressure removed with the change in grading policy, I'm mindful that you don't have the person to person support of study groups and study breaks. It can be hard to muster energy for long periods of work without your campus rhythm. Set a few intentions for yourself when you wake (and let that be well before noon if you can) and write them down. No more than five a day, and not all academic in nature. Write half a paper, make tea for my mom, finish a tardy pset, research a summer class, do a 30 minute workout online... that's a day's work. Go easy on yourself. Write/call me for suggestions on any of the above.

Below please the rules on end-of-term work, modified for the unusual times.

With you,

Dean Hill

Instructions on Not Giving Up

More than the fuchsia funnels breaking out of the crabapple tree, more than the neighbor's almost obscene display of cherry limbs shoving their cotton candy-colored blossoms to the slate sky of Spring rains, it's the greening of the trees that really gets to me. When all the shock of white and taffy, the world's baubles and trinkets, leave the pavement strewn with the confetti of aftermath, the leaves come. Patient, plodding, a green skin growing over whatever winter did to us, a return to the strange idea of continuous living despite the mess of us, the hurt, the empty. Fine then, I'll take it, the tree seems to say, a new slick leaf unfurling like a fist to an open palm, I'll take it all.

END-OF-TERM WORK

This term, Yale College has set the final possible date for all coursework as Wednesday, May 6. Of course, individual instructors may set deadlines for earlier than this date, even as they have full discretion to set deadlines as late as this date. See here. Beyond Wednesday, May 6, coursework may be submitted only with a TI authorized by Dean Hill; your instructor cannot set deadlines or issue extensions for beyond Wednesday, May 6, even in graduate and professional school courses. Yale College considers such deadlines and extensions invalid, and the work will not be counted. Please note that the Academic Regulations authorize the deans to issue TIs in only a limited range of circumstances; contact me if you have any concerns.

Scheduled final examinations may be rarer this term, but if you do have a scheduled examination and your circumstances do not allow you to take it as scheduled, please let me know ASAP so that we can discuss your situation.

Yale Degree Audit

Yale Degree Audit (YDA) is a tool that tracks your progress toward the bachelor's degree. YDA is located on the Academics tab of Student Information System (SIS). YDA displays the Yale College degree requirements that you have already completed and those that are still pending. A "Look Ahead" feature shows you how future course enrollment might apply toward your degree. Yale Degree Audit does not take the place of face-to-face advising, although you may wish to share your audit with your adviser. Instead, it provides an easy-to-read summary of requirements, allowing you and your adviser to spend more time discussing course selection and academic goals.

Do not rely solely on your degree audit when planning your courses; continue to use Yale's standard systems for schedule planning and employ YDA as an additional tool. More features will be added to YDA in the future, including the ability to track progress toward major requirements.

If you have suggestions, general observations, or questions that are not answered by the FAQs, send them to registrar@yale.edu using the subject line "Degree Audit." If you believe that academic information in your degree audit is incorrect, contact our office.

APPROACHING APPLICATION DEADLINES

Yale's Domestic Summer Award is still happening, and expanded for Summer 2020 only! In light of COVID-19, and for summer 2020 only, eligible students can use their DSA for in-person or remote unpaid/underfunded opportunities (with nonprofits, government entities, arts apprenticeship, research), international remote internships, or full-time enrollment in Yale Summer Session. Guidelines and eligibility requirements found here. (summer 2020 only)

RESOURCES

Check out micro-internships through Parker Dewey-Micro-internships allow you to work on paid, short-term, professional projects offered by employers around the country that can be completed remotely. These Micro-internships can help you develop professional skills, connect with employers across a variety of industries, and explore career paths. International students must receive work authorization to complete a project through Parker Dewey; see OISS.

InsideSherpa: Virtual Work Experience Programs are simulated projects from real companies for students see what it is like to work as a junior-level employee and learn/practice skills.

Your Summer Internship Search Pathway: The summer internship search can seem daunting—but it doesn't have to be. Check out this Pathway in Yale Career Link, compete with a manageable checklist and resources to find your summer opportunity. (Available to first-years, sophomores, and juniors).

Virtual Advising Available - Until further notice, all career advising appointments will be held by phone or video (Zoom or Skype). Please request appointments through Yale Career Link and select one of the remote location options.

YALE SUMMER SESSION

For 2020 only, the Domestic Summer Award may be used for Yale Summer Session

An award of $4,000 for Yale undergraduate students on financial aid who complete the equivalent of at least two 1-credit courses in Yale Summer Session. Students taking a 1.5-credit language courses must also take a second 1-credit (or 1.5-credit) course to be eligible. Courses can be taken together in a single session or may be taken in both Session A and Session B. Students may enroll in the Flatiron program, which meets the DSA requirements because it carries 2 credits. Please note that courses may not be selected Credit/D/Fail unless a student is enrolled in 2 courses in one session, one credit of which is for a letter grade. See YSS Student Handbook for C/D/F regulations. In addition to Yale Summer Online, Yale Summer Session will be converting many of the courses offered in New Haven and abroad to a remote online format.

Yale College students on financial aid during the academic year are eligible to receive both 50% off full YSS tuition (up to two course credits) and the DSA (if they have not yet used their DSA).
