Dear Franklinites,

Happy first day of classes, to all. It is a crisp and gracious late summer day in New Haven, and we gift our skies to you, wherever you may be attending school. Happy beginnings, and be of good cheer knowing you will home in on a smart schedule. Give it a few days.

This Notes is chock full, and as I said in each of our class meetings, it bears a read through. Answers to questions about securing spots, troubleshooting, library resources and “what to do when…” may be in close reach.

With you,
Dean Hill

For last year’s words belong to last year’s language
And next year’s words await another voice.
And to make an end is to make a beginning.

-T.S. Eliot

As Basho has said — it is a narrow road to the Deep North — as Mandela has said the haphazard segregation later became a well-orchestrated segregation
— as Basho has said the journey began with an attained awareness that at any moment you can become a weather-exposed skeleton — think of us in this manner
these are notes for your nourishment — hold them as bowls of kindness from journeys of bravery
the will to seek & find the sudden turning rivers & the dawn-eyed freedom

-Juan Felipe Herrera
Update on intro Math sections

Each course has a waitlist form linked from the front page of the course umbrella site, and any student who is not already in a section or wants to switch sections needs to fill out the form first. (They’ll need to add a section to their worksheet in OCS.

Important Dates for Registration & Schedules

An important email went out from the Registrar’s Office about Scheduling dates and deadlines. You can read that message here. Mark your calendars:

- September 4, 5:00 p.m. (Friday) – Deadline for all Yale College students to resubmit their final OCS schedule worksheet. If you have significant concerns about your schedule, please reach out to Michelle to arrange an advising appointment with me.

Add-Drop: What you need to know

- Q: During add/drop can I only add a new course once one has been dropped?
  - After your seal your preliminary schedule, OCS will re-open and you can make changes to your schedule. Unlike before, now you can add a course after you seal your schedule without having to petition for a late-add. Note that during add/drop all the usual rules still apply:
    - If the course requires discussion section seats, you need a confirmed DS seat as you always have.
    - If you want to add a credit causing an overload, or drop a credit causing an underload, you still need prior permission from me, so make sure you make an appointment well in advance to discuss this.
    - Note that enrollment in most seminars (and other limited-enrollment courses, like math or language sections) will already have been determined before the start of classes, and you may find that many courses are already full as you update your final schedule. This is why the preliminary schedule needs to be as accurate and complete as possible.

Overlaps

Typically, students are not allowed to elect courses with meeting times that overlap, (per the Academic Regulations, E. #6 A student may not elect courses with meeting times that overlap) and a small and insignificant overlap requires permission from instructors and a petition to the Committee on Honors and Academic Standing. The Academic Affairs office is reviewing this policy for the Fall 2020 term, so hang tight—we should have word soon about whether there will be an exception to this policy for online learning. You can also continue to check the Yale College FAQs for policy updates. However, please do not depend upon relaxing of this policy to go the way you hope when creating your schedule.
That is, your plan A should be to not have overlapping courses* and plan B can be to check vigilantly whether the policy is relaxed in the way you hope.

*If you believe both courses are absolutely necessary for your major(s) and overlap by an insignificant amount (less than 15 minutes) please write to me if you have not already.

Graduate School Course vs. Professional School Course

Upper-level Franklinites: Graduate school courses can be added directly to your worksheet in OCS (for exceptions, and what to do about them, see here) but professional school courses cannot. If you aren't sure whether the course you are interested in is in the graduate school or a professional school you can check here.

Housing & Status Change

Please take a moment to look in SIS to confirm that both your housing and learning location reflect your current housing plans. If they don't please either update your learning location or write to me and Michelle without delay to update your housing. If you are having trouble with Yale systems it may be a direct result of not having an address, or having an address that conflicts with your learning location status.

If you requested on-campus housing but now plan to be off-campus, please update your Learning Location in SIS via the Learning Location Status Update form or under the Personal Data>> Return to Campus tab. As a courtesy, please also email me and Michelle to make sure we are aware you are relinquishing housing.

Note that students have until today, August 31, the first day of classes, to relinquish housing for the Fall 2020 term without penalty. Following this date housing will be charged per diem until a student has vacated the dorm (see Yale College FAQs here).

Leave of Absence

If you are considering taking a leave of absence you can read more about leaves in the Yale College Programs of Study here and Fall 2020 decisions that apply in the Yale college FAQs here.

YALE SUMMER SESSION
Why do Yale College students participate in Yale Summer Session? We’re glad you asked.
1. To focus on difficult classes
2. To be able to double major
3. To make room for study abroad and internships
4. To take advantage of reduced tuition
5. To try out a new subject they can’t fit in during the fall or spring
6. To ease their course load in future semesters

So, the real question is: Why wouldn’t Yale College students take advantage of Yale Summer Session?

Summer 2021 course offerings will be posted in early 2021. Sign up for email updates from Yale Summer Session so you hear first when classes are posted.

Yale Degree Audit

Yale Degree Audit (YDA) is a tool that tracks your progress toward the bachelor’s degree. YDA is located on the Academics tab of Student Information System (SIS). YDA displays the Yale College degree requirements that you have already completed and those that are still pending. A “Look Ahead” feature shows you how future course enrollment might apply toward your degree. Yale Degree Audit does not take the place of face-to-face advising, although you may wish to share your audit with your adviser. Instead, it provides an easy-to-read summary of requirements, allowing you and your adviser to spend more time discussing course selection and academic goals.

Do not rely solely on your degree audit when planning your courses; continue to use Yale’s standard systems for schedule planning and employ YDA as an additional tool. More features will be added to YDA in the future, including the ability to track progress toward major requirements.

If you have suggestions, general observations, or questions that are not answered by the FAQs, send them to registrar@yale.edu using the subject line “Degree Audit.” If you believe that academic information in your degree audit is incorrect, contact our office.

To help undergraduate students at Yale get acquainted with the various resources available at the East Asia Library, the Council on East Asian Studies and the East Asia Library have scheduled two orientation sessions for the following days and times:

Friday, September 4th, 2020
1:00 PM – 2:00 PM
https://yale.zoom.us/j/96083306447

Friday, September 11th, 2020
1:00 PM – 2:00 PM
https://yale.zoom.us/j/98581374026

The Yale East Asia Library is one of the largest East Asian collections in North America—it holds approximately 800,000 volumes of books, thousands of journals, and hundreds of resources in other formats.

We strongly encourage East Asian Studies majors AND freshman and sophomores interested in East Asian Studies to attend one of these sessions as it will be most beneficial to your course of study at Yale. Please note that ALL GRADUATING EAST ASIAN STUDIES MAJORS (SENIORS) ARE ENCOURAGED TO ATTEND one of these sessions.

If you are interested in taking part in the East Asia Library orientation, please RSVP with Jude Yang, at jude.yang@yale.edu. Make sure to provide your name, email address, major, year of study, and area(s) of interest in your response.

With warm regards,

The Council on East Asian Studies
