Dear Franklinites,

I hope you were able to take a day away from Zoom yesterday, and hopefully get in a walk, a park, a bridge, a tree… something un-screeny.

Look for details this week on my Franklin Reading Group, which will start up next week. Some venerable sophomores are also organizing a book club, and we may coordinate themes.

Important deadlines

- Tuesday, March 9 – Classes do not meet
- Friday, March 19 by 5:00 p.m. – deadline to change the grade mode to Credit/D/Fail for a course offered in the first half of the term
- Friday, March 19 by 5:00 p.m. – withdraw from a course offered in the first half of the term

Note: Professional school courses cannot be changed to Credit/D/Fail. Some professional school courses end before the March deadlines listed here; the deadline to withdraw from these courses is the last day of the course.

If you wish to convert a course offered in the first half of the term to Credit/D/Fail, take the following steps. Once you convert your grade mode to Credit/D/Fail it cannot be reversed.

1. Log into SIS.
2. Select the Course Enrollment tab and click “Yale College Change Course from Letter Grade to Credit/D/Fail.”
3. Change the drop-down selection from “YC – Letter Grade” to “Credit/D/Fail.”
4. Click "Submit Changes" to save the conversion.
5. A confirmation of the change will be sent to your University email account. If you do not receive the confirmation email, your change was not processed. You can confirm all of your course grading modes by viewing your “Course Schedule Details by Term” in SIS.

Note: SIS will remain open to convert full-term courses to Credit/D/Fail until May 7. Attempts to convert courses offered in the first half of the term to Credit/D/Fail after 5 p.m. on May 7 will not be valid.

Welcome to Spring 2021 Franklinites!

I hope everyone had a restful break and the first weeks of the semester are off to an excellent start. As your schedules begin to settle and assignment due dates appear on the horizon, I encourage you to get in touch with me, your residential writing tutor, for all your writing needs.

You can meet with me at any stage in the writing process: to brainstorm, to receive my unflinching but compassionate feedback on a draft, to polish before submitting. I will give you my endless curiosity about what you are reading, what you are assigned, and what you are thinking. I will ask questions to help you dig deeper. I will help you harness the power of the semi-colon. And most importantly, I will help you improve your writing cognition: your awareness of why you make the choices you make when putting words on the page.

We can discuss any piece of coursework-related or independent writing you wish to share, in any field. That includes the brief, one-page reading response, but also the long stuff: that 20-page research paper, that let’s-stop-counting-the-pages senior thesis. I also help students with application essays, personal statements, and cover letters.

All meetings will be conducted via Zoom. You’ll need to sign up in advance for an appointment online at www.yalewco.com/. My hours, all EST, are Wednesdays 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. and Thursdays 12 p.m. to 4 p.m., with 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. on Thursdays reserved for Benjamin Franklin students only. If these time slots don’t work for your schedule, please email me directly at lesley.finn@yale.edu so that we can make other arrangements.

I look forward to working with you!

Best,

Lesley

Deadline: March 1st to Apply for Center for Language Study’s DILS and Fields Programs

The Yale Center for Language Study is now accepting applications for fall semester study for its Fields Program and its Directed Independent Language Study (DILS) Program. The deadline for applying to either program for fall semester study is March 1st at 1:00pm.

The Directed Independent Language Study (DILS) Program gives students the opportunity to study a language that is not currently taught in a Yale classroom.

The Fields Program gives students the opportunity to pursue advanced-level language study within the context of their academic area of focus (generally in areas other literature if the language is taught at Yale, since advanced coursework in literature would likely be available).

Both are non-credit programs, open to all registered Yale students (undergraduate, graduate and professional). In each program, students work with a Language Partner—a native speaker of the target language (not a formal instructor)—in two 1-hour sessions for 12 weeks. The sessions aim to develop linguistic and cultural competence through active conversation and practice of what you are studying independently. With a limited number of slots available, a selection committee reviews all applications for their merit and appropriateness, and notifies students of its decisions within four to six weeks after the application deadline.

Details on each program and how to apply can be found at these links:

Directed Independent Language Study (DILS):

https://cls.yale.edu/dils

Fields Program:

https://cls.yale.edu/fields

Please note that all applications must be received by the application deadline (this includes applications for continued study from current DILS or Fields students).
Yale Degree Audit

Yale Degree Audit (YDA) is a tool that tracks your progress toward the bachelor’s degree. YDA is located on the Academics tab of Student Information System (SIS). YDA displays the Yale College degree requirements that you have already completed and those that are still pending. A “Look Ahead” feature shows you how future course enrollment might apply toward your degree. Yale Degree Audit does not take the place of face-to-face advising, although you may wish to share your audit with your adviser. Instead, it provides an easy-to-read summary of requirements, allowing you and your adviser to spend more time discussing course selection and academic goals.

Do not rely solely on your degree audit when planning your courses; continue to use Yale’s standard systems for schedule planning and employ YDA as an additional tool. More features will be added to YDA in the future, including the ability to track progress toward major requirements.

If you have suggestions, general observations, or questions that are not answered by the FAQs, send them to registrar@yale.edu using the subject line “Degree Audit.” If you believe that academic information in your degree audit is incorrect, contact our office.
