Dear Franklinites,

This is your final week of classes in what I can say with a high degree of accuracy is the most challenging Yale semester you have faced, or will face. Your best must be good enough in these last days of coursework, and it will be. For us all there is an asterisk over the last year’s “results” and I hope that gives you permission to exhale. But I also hope for you in these last classes of Zoom School that you allow yourself to do more than slog through. Maybe you laugh extra long at a funny comment your classmate makes, or compliment an instructor on an insight they helped you reach. Or just look up from your keyboard at the faces on your screen and take them in, one by one, noticing something new about their humanity and tenacity. It’s nice to be noticed.

Friday, May 7 is the last day to convert a letter grade to Cr/D/F for a full term class, and the last day to withdraw from a class that isn’t working out. I’m available for consult.

Bon courage. Your best is enough.

Dean Hill

Daisy Time
See, the grass is full of stars,
Fallen in their brightness;
Hearts they have of shining gold,
Rays of shining whiteness.

Buttercups have honeyed hearts,
Bees they love the clover,
But I love the daisies' dance
All the meadow over.

Blow, O blow, you happy winds,
Singing summer’s praises,
Up the field and down the field
A-dancing with the daisies.

This is the formal announcement of the Williams Prize Competition in East Asian Studies. The prize is awarded to an undergraduate senior in any department at Yale University for an outstanding paper completed during the current academic year on a Chinese, Japanese, or Korean subject. Papers will be judged on use of primary sources, quality of writing, and depth and originality of scholarship. It is expected that essays nominated for the Williams Prize will make substantial use of materials in East Asian language(s) in any medium, including transcriptions of interviews. Essays that focus exclusively on Asian American topics normally will not be considered eligible for consideration. Course papers may be submitted. Please note that you are REQUIRED to have a written endorsement of your submission. This endorsement need not be from the advisor for whom you originally wrote the paper or senior essay, but it must be made by a faculty member of the Council on East Asian Studies. In either case, please allow time for the faculty to submit their written endorsement to the Council on East Asian Studies before the deadline.

PLEASE SUBMIT THE FOLLOWING TO nicholas.disantis@yale.edu NO LATER THAN 5:00 PM, Friday, May 7th:

1. ONE ELECTRONIC COPY OF YOUR PAPER

2. WRITTEN ENDORSEMENT FROM A FACULTY MEMBER OF THE COUNCIL ON EAST ASIAN STUDIES
   (The endorsement must be sent directly from the faculty member to nicholas.disantis@yale.edu)

3. A COVER PAGE THAT LISTS
   a. your complete legal name;
   b. current campus mailing address and telephone/cell number;
   c. Yale College affiliation;
   d. UPI number
   e. Student Identification (SID) number
   f. other prizes or awards that your paper is being considered for at Yale

Best regards and good luck!

Yale Degree Audit

Yale Degree Audit (YDA) is a tool that tracks your progress toward the bachelor’s degree. YDA is located on the Academics tab of Student Information System (SIS). YDA displays the Yale College degree requirements that you have already completed and those that are still pending. A “Look Ahead” feature shows you how future course enrollment might apply toward your degree. Yale Degree Audit does not take the place of face-to-face advising, although you may wish to share your audit with your adviser. Instead, it provides an easy-to-read summary of requirements, allowing you and your adviser to spend more time discussing course selection and academic goals.

Do not rely solely on your degree audit when planning your courses; continue to use Yale’s standard systems for schedule planning and employ YDA as an additional tool. More features will be added to YDA in the future, including the ability to track progress toward major requirements.

If you have suggestions, general observations, or questions that are not answered by the FAQs, send them to registrar@yale.edu using the subject line “Degree Audit.” If you believe that academic information in your degree audit is incorrect, contact our office.
