

Benjamin Franklin College

Dean's Notes – February 25, 2019

Dear Franklinites,

Did you watch the host-less Oscars? Allow me to nerd out for a moment, as it's a focal point of February.

Some moving moments:

- Regina King winning for "If Beale Street Could Talk" (my favorite film of 2018, based upon a great novel by James Baldwin you should read);
- Roma ushering Netflix into the age of Important Films with wins in foreign-language film, cinematography and for director Cuarón. And how cool that of the last five Oscar winners for director, four have been Mexican;
- Olivia Colman giving a rambling, authentic and charmingly British speech for her win for The Favourite;
- Spike Lee jumping into Samuel L. Jackson's arms after finally winning an Oscar, for BlackKkKlansman.

And some not great ones:

- How uncomfortable Bradley's Cooper's girlfriend must've been watching him and Lady Gaga lock eyes for at least seven minutes as they serenaded each other;
- Black Panther not winning enough;
- And Green Book (or Mr. Daisy Driving) winning Best Picture, bookending Spike Lee's first loss thirty years ago to another movie that critic Wesley Morris (our Tea guest last year!) terms "racial reconciliation fantasies," foregrounding white enlightenment at the expense of a fuller rendering of history and social movements.

But back to Franklin, where we have it going on this week with IM Hoops finals and housing season and a dinner just for juniors!

Cell phones tend to bring us more inside of our lives whereas movies offer a chance to escape, so there are two competing forces.

Announcing the Chun Challenge for Change

The Yale College Dean's Office, in partnership with the Tsai Center for Innovative Thinking, is offering a $500 prize to students who propose innovative approaches to improving life at Yale.

Proposals can address:

- Environmental issues -- climate change, sustainability, food waste, Yale's energy efficiency
- Student wellness -- mental, emotional, physical, social or professional health
- Belonging at Yale -- diversity, equity and inclusion on campus
- Any other solutions to problems that you think our community can address

Proposals are judged for being innovative and interdisciplinary, and for their impact on addressing a problem at Yale. The winning team will get $500 plus dinner with Dean Chun.

Teams must include a minimum of two Yale College students from the same residential college and must include students from two or more different majors. Teams from each college will be selected and notified by March 18th.

Teams must present their ideas in under three minutes to a panel of judges, which will include Dean Chun, on April 3rd, from 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m. Teams will get support from Tsai CITY staff to practice their presentations.

To apply, click HERE. Applications are due at 11:59PM on March 8th. For questions regarding the Chun Challenge application, please write to Nya Holder (nya.holder@yale.edu).

Yale Academic Strategies Program

<https://academicstrategies.ctl.yale.edu>

academicstrategies@yale.edu

Academic Strategies Workshops

All workshops are held in the Poorvu Center (the new name for the CTL). Room M104A is located on the Poorvu Center's Writing Center mezzanine, just up the stairs near the 301 York St. entrance to Sterling Library.

Exam Study Strategies for Midterms

Monday, February 25, 6:00 PM, Poorvu Center M104A

Reduce exam stress by learning new strategies for preparing and studying for midterms and finals. This workshop offers suggestions for preparing for and taking problem-based, short answer, and essay exams.

Time Management

Tuesday, February 26, 6:00 PM, Poorvu Center M104A

Set priorities and develop a weekly schedule that can lead to an active and balanced academic life.

Reading Analytically for Social Science

Wednesday, February 27, 6:00 PM, Poorvu Center M104A

This workshop provides an overview of deep reading to generate effective contributions to class discussion, develop essay topics, and identify strong evidence for essays. Participants will get practice with these strategies in our interactive session.

Planning and Research Strategies for Undergraduate Term Papers (w/Yale librarian Kelly Blanchat, Undergraduate Teaching and Outreach)

Thursday, March 1, 1:00 PM, Poorvu Center 120A

Have an assignment that requires research? Want to extend your research skills beyond Google Scholar and JSTOR? This workshop offers guidance on approaching research topics, developing a work timeline, and using Yale libraries and other resources to create strong research-based projects.

Cultivating Faculty Mentors/Recommendations

Monday, March 4, 6:00 PM, Poorvu Center M104A

Initiate conversations, ask for assistance, request recommendations, and build mentoring relationships with Yale faculty, teaching fellows and staff.

Pathways for Sophomores

Tuesday, March 5, 7:30 PM, Poorvu Center M104A

Sophomore year offers new challenges, including increased course loads, upper-level classes, and identifying a major. This interactive workshop helps students set goals and make long-term plans for the year.

Meet 1-1 with our Academic Strategies Mentors

Students can now sign up for an appointment via our online scheduler. During your 1-1 session, you can:

- Create a weekly schedule to help manage your time and get things done

- Set academic and professional goals and identify ways to meet them

- Identify challenges and develop strategies to enhance your approach to your academic work

51% of Yale College students use Poorvu Center academic resources. For advice on the resources available and how to take advantage of them, check out our Academic Strategies online guide: Getting It Done: A Guide to Academic Resources at Yale.

First-Generation/Low-Income Community Initiative

FGLI Community Initiative Study Hall: Need a quiet, supportive place to study? Join the FGLI Ambassadors for snacks and encouragement at the Poorvu Center for Teaching and Learning, Room 121 on Mondays starting at 6 pm.

FGLI Guest Speaker: Prof. Anthony Jack: The Privileged Poor

Thursday, February 28 @ 4 pm, Saybrook College

<https://www.facebook.com/events/238908880382072/>

Join the First-Generation Low-Income Community Initiative in conversation with Dr. Anthony A. Jack on his research and his personal experience. Dr. Jack's recently published book, The Privileged Poor, focuses on the inclusivity of low-income students from different backgrounds in elite colleges and makes recommendations for a more inclusive college campus. His opportunity to teach extends beyond his work, however, given Dr. Jack identifies as a first-gen alum. We invite you to join us in this unique opportunity to learn about Dr. Jack's implications for a more socioeconomically inclusive campus from an academic leader who understands the experience personally. Books will be available for purchase!

This event is co-sponsored by the Poorvu Center for Teaching and Learning, the Education Studies program, and the Sociology department.

Yale College Dean's Office Resources: Check out the resources available for students on significant financial aid, including the Loaner Laptop program, the Career Closet, and the Winter Clothing Grant:

Yale Libraries

This month, the Yale University Library is offering a number of events for undergraduates, from learning research strategies to make database searching easier, visits from a therapy dog, and drop-in consultations with a librarian over coffee (and get a free mug!). We hope to see you there!

The 2019-20 Student Research at Yale University Library exhibit is seeking four students to curate one exhibit case each based on a completed paper or research project. In honor of the 50 Women at Yale 150 celebration, the proposals must be related to some aspect of women's experience and contributions at Yale or in the world. The submission deadline has been extended to Monday, Feb. 25. This opportunity is open to undergraduate, graduate or professional students.

LEVEL UP your research papers! Sign up to meet with a librarian for 30-minutes to learn how to organize, annotate, & cite items in your writing more efficiently. Whether you are just starting out and want to find resources, or if you just need to keep track of them – we can help. Sign up for a session here: bit.ly/yulLEVELUP

Reading Resilience Project: The Reading Resilience Project is an initiative to amplify underrepresented voices in library collections. Yale students are encouraged to recommend works by and about people of color, the result of which is an ever-growing crowd-sourced list of books. RRP books will be put on display in Bass Library for the month of February, and you can preview the full book list at: <https://guides.library.yale.edu/Reading-Resilience>. To submit a book (or other creative work), use this form: bit.ly/rrpyale.

Yale Peabody Museum 2019 summer internships

The Yale Peabody Museum is excited to offer summer internships for Yale undergraduate students!

Descriptions of the specific internships and the broader internship program, as well as the online application form, are available at: <http://peabody.yale.edu/yale-students/summer-internships>.

Application deadline is Monday, March 25, with applications accepted later on a rolling basis if internships have not been filled.

The 2019 AAU Campus Sexual Climate Survey

February 4 – March 4, 2019

If you are a Yale student—graduate, undergraduate, or professional—you should have received an invitation in your email from President Salovey asking you to take part in the 2019 Campus Sexual Climate Survey. This confidential survey asks about students' perceptions and experiences of sexual misconduct, campus resources and support, and bystander intervention. The results will help guide

Yale's strategies for addressing sexual misconduct. The strength of those findings, though, will depend on you! Please, check your inbox and fill out the survey now. (The links are unique, so use only your own email invitation.) Yale will report on the results in Fall 2019. For more details about the survey and Yale's resources, please see smr.yale.edu. For information, advocacy, and support, contact SHARE (203-432-2000) at any time.

Yale Degree Audit

Yale Degree Audit (YDA) is a tool that tracks your progress toward the bachelor's degree. YDA is located on the Academics tab of Student Information System (SIS). YDA displays the Yale College degree requirements that you have already completed and those that are still pending. A "Look Ahead" feature shows you how future course enrollment might apply toward your degree. Yale Degree Audit does not take the place of face-to-face advising, although you may wish to share your audit with your adviser. Instead, it provides an easy-to-read summary of requirements, allowing you and your adviser to spend more time discussing course selection and academic goals.

Do not rely solely on your degree audit when planning your courses; continue to use Yale's standard systems for schedule planning and employ YDA as an additional tool. More features will be added to YDA in the future, including the ability to track progress toward major requirements.

If you have suggestions, general observations, or questions that are not answered by the FAQs, send them to registrar@yale.edu using the subject line "Degree Audit." If you believe that academic information in your degree audit is incorrect, contact our office.

Deadline: March 1st to Apply for Center for Language Study's DILS and Fields Programs

The Yale Center for Language Study is now accepting applications for fall semester study for its Fields Program and its Directed Independent Language Study (DILS) Program. The deadline for applying to either program for fall semester study is March 1st.

The Directed Independent Language Study (DILS) Program gives students the opportunity to study a language that is not currently taught in a Yale classroom.

The Fields Program gives students the opportunity to pursue advanced-level language study within the context of their academic area of focus (generally in areas other literature if the language is taught at Yale, since advanced coursework in literature would likely be available).

Both are non-credit programs, open to all registered Yale students (undergraduate, graduate and professional). In each program, students work with a Language Partner—a native speaker of the target language (not a formal instructor)—in two 1-hour sessions for 12 weeks. The sessions aim to develop linguistic and cultural competence through active conversation and practice of what you are studying independently. With a limited number of slots available, a selection committee reviews all applications for their merit and appropriateness, and notifies students of its decisions within four to six weeks after the application deadline.

Details on each program and how to apply can be found at these links:

Directed Independent Language Study (DILS):

<https://cls.yale.edu/dils>

Fields Program:

<https://cls.yale.edu/fields>

Please note that all applications must be received by the application deadline (this includes applications for continued study from current DILS or Fields students).
